LIFE.CHANGING

Acknowledgment of Traditional Lands

Royal Roads University is located on the traditional Lands of the Lekwungen-speaking Peoples, the Songhees and Esquimalt Nations. It is with gratitude that we live, work and learn here where the past, present, and future of Indigenous and non-Indigenous students, faculty and staff come together. The research in this document and the creation of this booklet is made possible by the lands that bring us together.

In honour of the Xwsepsum (Esquimalt) and Lekwungen (Songhees) ancestors, Hay'sxw'qa si'em (hy-sh-kwa sea-em)! This means, "Thank you, respected or honourable one."

Harvested and carved by Tsawout artist Tom Lafortune with the assistance of Howard LaFortune Jr., the name of this 25-foot-tall pole is "S'ael", a Sencoten word for harmony.

Introduction

Solution-oriented and real-world focused, Royal Roads University develops and supports applied research which seeks to combine the best of scholarship and practice, supports organizations and communities, and responds to new and emerging challenges in the workplace. We are guided by our strategic research themes of transformational learning; climate action, wellbeing and the environment; and leadership, organizations and an equitable, inclusive society.

Researchers at Royal Roads seek to address and respond to critical issues of our time. Engagement with stakeholders and communities is a defining feature of our scholarly inquiries. A commitment to knowledge-driven social change guides the university's research, and its relevance is evident in the mobilization and transfer of knowledge beyond academia and into the public sphere.

We are pleased to showcase the research contributions of our faculty, associate faculty and staff in the 2023 edition of the Scholarly Outputs and Research Activity booklet.

RRU gratefully acknowledges the support of the Tri-Council Granting Agencies (SSHRC, NSERC and CIHR) through their Research Support Fund and financial contributions to the RRU Office of Research Services, which supports the creation of this publication.

Accessibility statement

This document follows the accessibility practices outlined in the Royal Roads Accessibility in Research Toolkit, using Atkinson Hyperlegible Font and a Modified American Psychological Association (APA) style. The modifications we have made to standard APA 7.0 emphasize accessibility over compliance with scholarly convention. These include: the use of full words rather than abbreviations ('and' rather than '&', 'pages' rather than 'pp.', and 'editors' rather than 'eds.'); the capitalization of the main words in titles; and text hyperlinks.

Names associated with Royal Roads University – faculty and associate faculty, staff and students – are bolded.

This document presents traditional and non-traditional research outputs. Royal Roads supports our faculty and staff in the broad translation of research knowledge. Our goal is to create accessible research for diverse audiences in Canada and around the world.

Professional Project Administrator Program for Indigenous Learners – Our Research

We often think about our research process as weaving. Our individual ways of being, thinking, and doing can be weak or incomplete. However, when we come together with our various cultures and ways, we engage in weaving and in unravelling too, learning and unlearning. It is the warp and weft, the back and forth, that makes us stronger... Our goal is for our research process to be participatory-based and to include arts-based methods. We want to intentionally engage in a process that is founded on relationality and culture, to explore ways to tell our experiences and stories in a good way.
